

THE IDEOLOGY OF FASCISM

What is fascism?

A Modern and revolutionary Ideology which aims to build a new kind of society alternative to the one expressed by liberal democracies and capitalist. The political model of this ideal takes the name of State CORPORATE ETHICS.

What is the status of ethics?

Fascism proclaims the value of individual inserted within a social structure which is the national community. This community rises to ethical reality Was becoming a Superior Moral authority, which has the task of realizing the common good of the citizens. The individual identifying himself with the State, with its membership Community, achieves the true freedom. The ethos that permeates moral fascist state corporatism.

What is corporatism?

Corporatism is a Moral and ethical conception of politics from which it derives an economic concept which places man at the center of society, considering it an essential component of the national community. Corporatism conceives the national community as an Organic Body in which each "part" competes and collaborates for the collective good. Task of the State is to create a harmonious collective within which do not allow divisions and infighting, on behalf of the purest and authentic Organic totalitarian Democracy, and corporate.

Corporatism is also an economic principle?

Yes, even the economy falls in the State, unlike the capitalist economies where it is left to the selfishness of individualistic and private markets. Fascism does not believe that selfishness of individuals is a source of prosperity for the whole of society and aimed at creating a supportive and caring society in which the economy is a means to ensure the material well-being of society and in which the work, by advancing a moral value, becomes no longer subject but the subject of the economy.

Fascism involves the direct participation of labor in the State through a Guild Room in which there are representatives of each profession and of the various categories of producers, grouped in category unions they can legislate on matters within their competence. Also in the work participates in the management of "res publica" through an equitable distribution of profits.

What is the difference between Fascist Corporatism and the Anglo-Saxon neocorporativismo?

The Fascist Corporatism is something completely different from the system of "corporates", which are groups of individuals who manipulate the power for their own selfish interests: Corporate Ethics State corporations are State Organs which contribute to its well-being and the well-being of the community.

Fascism is therefore a dictatorship Collectivism?

Not at all, it is direct private initiatives towards the needs of the community through the harmonic synthesis between capital and labour, individual and State, freedom and authority which is vital need of the modern age. This revolutionary approach to problems is the seal imprinted a new civilization. The Corporate Ethics is not only compatible with pluralism, but rather it enhances, valuing individual pulses, without which they degenerate into conflict and fragmentation. Citing Ugo Spirito: "State to be carried out in its entirety does not need to evening, disindividualizzare, wipe out the individual and life of its destruction: on the contrary it is enhanced with the development of the individual, his freedom, his property, his initiative, his peculiar position in relations with other individuals".

But then fascism is democratic?

Fascism denies that the liberal regimes, so-called "Democrats", based on monopoly of financial capitalism, the dictatorship of the parliaments and political parties that are not a free expression of the popular will, the clientele and the oligarchic corruption, can be considered truly democratic regimes.

Fascism is claiming to make the only democracy can, that, where the Corporate People participate actively and directly in the life of the State, as a citizen and producer, through the different institutions and corporations. Fascist democracy is not intended strictly materialistic, as in liberal regimes where the people are seen as "number", but spiritually as the idea that in people leads to which consciousness and will of a few and what ideal tends to be implemented in the consciousness and will of all.

Fascism is a Spiritual Civilization?

Fascism rejects materialism that makes man a machine dedicated to exclusive interest to take care of its own economic interests and material and enhances Spiritual model of society that embraces all forms of moral and intellectual life of man. Fascism still believes and always in holiness and heroism, conceives life as struggle, celebrates those who have ethical virtues of man.

Fascism has a conception of religious life as it requires a conscious faith, absolute and uncompromising ethical and moral values that permeate the community.

This civilization is only Italian or universal?

Fascism, in continuity with the civilian tradition and Imperial Rome, offers a model of citizenship that transcends the mere geographical membership to rise to building a universal unitary consciousness. For fascism the concept of Nation is not "material", as in nationalism, but spiritual. The fascist state, pushing the limits of a vision far too cramped and not materialistic boundaries, but promotes peoples and Nations, creates a bridge between different cultures and create a superior model of civilization. Civilization that was and will always be imperialist; world, in the sense that the highest and purest of the word.

Fascism is not so racist?

Exactly. Fascism, heir to the Roman doctrine, universalism is not racist nor anti-Semitic. His Spiritual conception overcomes the naturalistic conception of materialism of racism and affirms the high status value that promotes ethnic groups, peoples and Nations under the banner of Imperial Civilization del Littorio. For fascism citizenship is given by adherence to ethical and cultural values transmitted by the State, which with its educational and ethical action is able to forge the character and temperament of men giving rise to a new "breed", regardless of ethnicity of origin, representing the new man. Only those who do not want to assimilate into the harmonious collective fascist and seeks instead to hack it is consistently removed, regardless of ethnicity.

Fascism is right or left?

For fascism and right are empty words and meaningless, belong to the Museum phraseology of liberal systems. Fascism is neither right nor left as it aims for unity of the body politic and social.

Then fascism is not far-right?

Not only fascism is not right or the extreme right, but considers this policy area as the main obstacle to his assertion, and because unlawfully appropriates of fascism, distorting the essence, because ideas and methodologies are not related to fascism and make it convenient to anti-fascist nomenclature who identified it fascist stereotypes uncouth, violent, racist and pro-Nazi.

Can fascism be a form of socialism?

Fascism has superseded the old dichotomies and right as it has taken and passed the same socialism. Starting with the recovery of Mazzini and combining experiences and conceptions later (Syndicalism of Sorel) fascism defines its doctrine as the only SOCIALISM possible, permeated by a Spiritualistic conception based on "Moral Revolution" of citizenship. Mussolini's socialism finds himself in the same Doctrine, based on Ethics, morality and social justice. A doctrine that takes Corporate Unionism as a basis of national work. It is then, to paraphrase Mussolini, a "Socialism Our" ethical socialism, and anti-materialistic.

Their religions a particular Valence for fascism?

Fascism acknowledges and respects the religions of a particular people and respects the religious freedom of the individual citizen as long as they do not conflict with State Ethics. Fascism, rejecting the anticlerical battles of materialism, advocates a society based on harmonious collective in which you establish a line Secularism based on harmony and justice: State and demanded that work in different fields, each defined in its scope and for its function.

What is the symbol of fascism?

The emblem of fascism is the Fasces, a symbol of unity, Strength and justice. The unity of the social body, whose classes are linked together by rods which symbolize unity, whose strength, the axe, is guarantor of justice.

Which party today represents the ideal fascist?

No party today represents the ideal of Mussolini Fascism-gentiliano. Especially the so-called "neo-fascist", inserted in the system based on party politics of the Republic founded by the resistance, who are naively associated it.

But then how can I learn about fascism?

You can learn about fascism by the only truly fascist cultural association from time it promotes the study and dissemination: Fascist Culture Association -<http://culturafascista.com/>
